Membership

The Florida chapter of ACRL provides opportunities for professional development and networking, and promotes the exchange of ideas and information. FACRL can provide new ways to meet colleagues, build leadership skills, or contribute to the profession. The Chapter is open to librarians from all types of libraries, including state colleges and universities, as well as specialized research libraries.

All members of the ACRL division of ALA who live in Florida are automatically members of FACRL.

Not an ACRL member? Join us today with our new membership category! We hope to expand opportunities for more to participate in FACRL and to work with us to build a new future.

NEW Membership Category:

FACRL has established a new membership category that will allow non ALA/ACRL members to join. The only requirement is to be a librarian working in Florida with some affiliation to higher education. FACRL is open to librarians from all types of libraries, including state college and universities, private colleges and universities, and specialized research and other library organizations. FACRL membership remains free to those with current ALA/ACRL memberships.

- Non-ACRL membership: $30.00 annually
- Membership: One year from date of registration
- Join online:

Board of Directors

Look for the next opportunity to serve on the FACRL Board! FACRL strives to create a Board that represents all constituencies and regions. A call for nominations to serve on the Board goes out in early spring prior to the annual meeting of the Florida Library Association (FLA). The FACRL Board meets in person twice a year in conjunction with the FACRL Annual Fall Program and the FLA Annual Conference. Board meetings are open to all who wish to attend. Come join us!

Annual Fall Program

Each Fall FACRL holds a conference around a particular theme. Usually held in October at varying locations, the conference provides an excellent opportunity to learn what other colleagues are doing around the state. Find information about past programs on the FACRL web site.
