Dear ISL Affiliates:

The Institute for Successful Longevity is pleased to announce a $1000 Esther & Del Grosser Scholarship for student research, as well as a prize for best poster at this year's Student Poster Research Day on Wednesday, March 29th, 2023. The $1000 award is open to your graduate students. The poster award could involve graduate or undergraduate students working with you. Please note that undergraduates are not permitted in the Poster Day event as the primary presenter of the poster, however, the poster could have their name on it if it involves multiple members of a team and is presented at the event by a graduate student. Postdocs in addition to graduate students are eligible to present. Previous award winners of the Esther & Del Grosser Scholarship will not be eligible to win the scholarship award a second time.

If you would like to nominate a student, please upload the required documents into the Esther & Del Grosser scholarship application website by clicking this link:

<https://fsu-estherdelgrosser.smapply.us/>

Submissions must be completed no later than Friday, March 10th, 2023. In order to apply on the website you simply create an account by using the menu in the top right hand corner of the webpage then upload the documents. The following complete information is required for consideration of this award:

- A one-page letter from the student indicating how their research contributes to the Institute's mission, as outlined in the "Our Goals" section of the ISL web site: www.isl.fsu.edu.
- A letter of recommendation from you, the student's advisor, highlighting the student's accomplishments and why you believe that they merit the award.
- Your student's CV.
- A high quality picture of the candidate to be used should they receive the scholarship.

The award will be presented during our Student Poster Research Day. Please don't hesitate to reach out to us if you have any questions or concerns. You may contact us at isl@fsu.edu or you may reach out to our administrative assistant directly at the email listed above, where Victoria will be happy to address any questions, comments, or concerns that you may have.

Sincerely,

Neil Charness
