The Details

Friday, November 10, 2023 – full-day event
Tampa Convention Center
333 S Franklin St, Tampa, Florida

GSA is the "professional home" to 5,500+ career gerontologists and students devoted to research, education, and practice in the field of aging. Every year, GSA hosts an Annual Scientific Meeting where researchers, clinicians, educators, and other professionals gather to learn about and discuss the latest trends, research, and key issues in gerontology. This year, GSA is adding a Careers in Aging Day to this 5-day event, and you're invited!

Who should attend?

Students at 4-year academic institutions and community colleges in Florida who have an interest in fields related to aging, health care and administration are welcome to attend this complimentary event.
