

OPENING MINDS THROUGH ART (OMA):

Connecting generations through art-making

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Elizabeth "Like" Lokon, MGS, Ph.D. is the original founder and director of Opening Minds through Art (OMA), an intergenerational art program for people living with dementia. She works for Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University. As an artist, gerontologist, and educator, she frequently speaks on the intersection of the arts, dementia, and intergenerational service learning.

Elizabeth Lokon, Ph.D.,
Founder and Director of OMA

Megan Young, Krysta Peterson,
Associate Director Assistant Director

Lecture and Q&A

JANUARY 18, 2024

3:30 PM - 4:45 PM

LOCATION:

Claude Pepper Center Broad Auditorium
Reception following in the Museum

Learn about the Opening Minds through Arts (OMA) program from the original founder, Dr. Lokon.

claudepeppercenter.fsu.edu

CLAUDE PEPPER
CENTER