

Arizona Journal of Environmental Law and Policy

CALL FOR PAPERS

ARIZONA JOURNAL OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW AND POLICY

The Arizona Journal of Environmental Law and Policy (AJELP) is a student-run, fully online, interdisciplinary publication that examines environmental issues from legal, economic, scientific, and public policy perspectives.

ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE INCLUDES RACIAL JUSTICE SUMMER SYMPOSIUM

This year, we are gearing up to hold a symposium and publish an all-student summer issue focused on environmental justice. In solidarity with the Black Lives Matter movement, AJELP has committed to featuring racial justice conversations and seeks diverse voices and topics to bolster its effort.

WHAT CAN BE SUBMITTED TO THE SYMPOSIUM?

Submissions to AJELP's summer symposium can be either full-length articles or comments. They must be written by JD or other graduate students. Additionally, we'd like to hold zoom presentations and recorded interviews with our authors to be featured along with their articles on our website.

Submissions Due April 2nd

Please send your paper and your CV (working drafts are welcome)
