

Communication Disorders Program

Department of Educational Leadership, Counselor Education, & Communication Disorders

College of Education

Eastern Kentucky University

245 Wallace Building

<https://cd.eku.edu/>

Assistant Professor-Faculty Position in Communication Disorders

Job Description: The Communication Disorders and Sciences Program at Eastern Kentucky University is accepting applications for a 9-month, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor rank. The successful candidate will teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses in the CD program area and will advise students at the undergraduate and graduate level. Expertise in voice, fluency, or neurogenic communication disorders is desired. The candidate will be expected to engage in scholarly activity and provide service to the department, college, university, community, and profession. Applicants must have an earned doctorate in speech-language pathology from a regionally accredited institution (ABD will be considered) and have CCC-SLP certification and eligibility for Kentucky licensure. This position is scheduled to begin August 2019. All applicants must apply at <https://jobs.eku.edu/> (search requisition #F00108P). More information about this position is available on the site. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: August 2019

Contact Information: Please contact Kellie C. Ellis, Ph.D., CCC/SLP at kellie.ellis@eku.edu or (859)622-1860 with questions regarding this position.