

Mary Frances Early
College of Education
UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

The Department of Communication Sciences and Special Education at the University of Georgia invites applications for the position of Clinical Assistant Professor with expertise in Audiology. In collaboration with the Audiology Clinic Coordinator and the Clinic Director, this individual will lead the adult rehabilitation clinical program with a heavy emphasis on cochlear implant service delivery. This is a full-time clinical faculty position to begin as early as June 1, 2026.

Responsibilities will include the following, as well as other duties as assigned:

- Provide direct clinical services and evidence-based management in the evaluation and (re)habilitation of hearing disorders for a caseload of patients representing a range of ages, backgrounds, and communication needs
- Instruct and supervise students in clinical practica in the on-campus clinic and off-campus community screenings
- Teach undergraduate and/or graduate courses (face-to-face, online, and/or blended) and mentor and advise students, as assigned
- Engage in departmental, college, university, and professional service
- Comply with university, regulatory, and accreditation agency standards

Required Qualifications for this position include:

- Earned doctoral (Au.D., Ph.D., or equivalent) degree in audiology, communication disorders, or related field
- Current Certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology (CCC-A) from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association
- Current Georgia license in Audiology or evidence that the candidate is license-eligible by the proposed start date
- At least 1 year of experience in cochlear implant service delivery

Preferred Experience and Preferred Competencies for this position include:

- At least 5 years of clinical experience in audiology
- At least 2 years of experience in clinical supervision of audiology students or speech-language pathology students
- At least 3 years of experience in cochlear implant service delivery

Appointment

This is a full-time (12-month) faculty position beginning as early as June 1, 2026.

Applications are to be submitted through <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/470970> and must include all of the following:

- A letter of application specifically responsive to the position responsibilities and qualifications as described above
- A complete curriculum vitae
- The contact information for three persons who will serve as references

Unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts will be required from finalists. References will be contacted by UGA staff to provide letters of support. Applications received by March 30, 2026 are assured full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Questions may be addressed to the search committee chair, Alison Morrison, AuD, at alison.morrison@uga.edu.

The Department of Communication Sciences and Special Education seeks to improve the world around us through instruction, research, outreach, and service in speech-language pathology, audiology, American Sign Language, special education, applied behavior analysis, and related areas. The Department's Speech and Hearing Clinic, founded in 1953, is the largest academically-associated clinic at UGA and provides a full range of speech, language, voice, dysphagia, hearing assessment, hearing aid, and aural (re)habilitation services to Athens and surrounding communities. Information about the Department and clinic is available at <https://coe.uga.edu/directory/communication-sciences-and-special-education> and <https://coe.uga.edu/directory/speech-and-hearing-clinic>. For more information about UGA, visit <http://www.uga.edu>, and for Athens, visit <http://www.visitathensga.com>

As the 4th largest public college of education in the country and the 3rd largest college at UGA, the Mary Frances Early College of Education (MFE COE) improves the lives of residents of Georgia and beyond through our instruction, research, and service. The MFE COE is a comprehensive college with disciplines focused on teacher preparation, counseling and human development, communication sciences, human movement sciences, career development, student affairs, and educational administration and policy. We place significant emphasis on graduate education, with approximately 40% of our students at the graduate level, making us the second largest college at UGA with respect to graduate education.

Chartered by the state of Georgia in 1785, the University of Georgia is the birthplace of public higher education in America and is the state's flagship university (<https://www.uga.edu/>). The proof is in our more than 240 years of academic and professional achievements and our continual commitment to higher education. UGA is currently ranked among the top 20 public universities in U.S. News & World Report. The University's main campus is located in Athens, approximately 65 miles northeast of Atlanta, with extended campuses in Atlanta, Griffin, Gwinnett, and Tifton. UGA employs approximately 3,100 faculty and more than 7,700 full-time staff. The University's enrollment exceeds 41,000 students, including over 31,000 undergraduates and over 10,000 graduate and professional students. Academic programs reside in 19 schools and colleges, including our newly established School of Medicine.

The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, or veteran status or other protected status. Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu).

This position is contingent on funding availability.

Offers of employment are contingent upon completion of a background investigation including a criminal background check, demonstrating your eligibility for employment with the University of Georgia; confirmation of the credentials and employment history reflected in your application materials (including reference checks) as they relate to the job-based requirements of the position applied for; and, if applicable, a satisfactory credit check. You may also be subject to a pre-employment drug test for positions with high-risk responsibilities, if applicable. Please visit the UGA Background Check website